

V2G05 - TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT STRATEGIES AND PRACTICES

www.velgtraining.com/events/1330

COURSE INFORMATION

Our Training and Assessment Strategies and Practices module covers the purpose behind strategies for training and assessment and documenting these to align with the practices in place at your RTO.

The training and assessment strategy itself is an integral document (or set of documents) that represents the RTO's practices across a VET course in respect of its training and assessment activities and associated resources. Not only does the strategy come with a series of compliance requirements but it serves as a working document that represents what we, as RTO Managers, trainers and assessors use to reference and represent our implemented practices as an ongoing work in progress document.

TOPICS COVERED

- What is a Training And Assessment Strategy and Why Do We Need One?
- The Required Components of a Training and Assessment Strategy
- The Volume Of Learning and Amount Of Training for the VET Course
- Considerations for Learner Support
- Documenting Assessment Methods and Evidence Gathering Techniques
- Implementing, Monitoring and Reviewing Training and Assessment Strategies and Practices
